

The city of Hartford welcomes Hartford Family Medicine

Now Hartford residents can receive quality medical care without having to travel out of town. Hartford Family Medicine, an affiliate of Medical Center Enterprise, is open for treatment of routine and acute healthcare needs that are not medical emergencies. Of course, in a medical emergency, you should always call 911 or proceed directly to the nearest emergency room.

Cecilia R. Robinson, MSN, CRNP

At Hartford Family Medicine, nurse practitioner, Cecilia R. Robinson, MSN, CRNP offers thorough and compassionate care often with same- or next-day appointments. Cecilia is a graduate of Troy State University and the University of South Alabama. She brings over eight years of experience as a midlevel provider of healthcare to adults and children with acute and chronic medical conditions. “Whether it’s a simple stomachache or something more serious, you can trust us with your family’s well-being,” said Cecilia Robinson. “Our goal is to provide a caring and friendly atmosphere that welcomes our patients.” From checkups and physicals to the management of chronic illnesses, Robinson says patients receive prompt, attentive primary care to help them feel their best. “We take the time to really listen and explain things to you in a way you can understand,” she added. “Here you’ll be treated as a friend as well as a patient.”

Backed by Medical Center Enterprise

The clinic is conveniently located in Hartford and backed by all the resources of Medical Center Enterprise.
